Heather focuses her practice on employment litigation, representing employers throughout the United States in federal and state courts and in various administrative tribunals. Her broad range of litigation experience includes the representation of employers in cases alleging wage and hour, sexual harassment, race, national origin, gender, disability and age discrimination, breach of contract, violations of public policy and tort claims. Heather also handles traditional labor matters including labor arbitrations and NLRB proceedings. In addition, Heather regularly provides counseling to employers on compliance with various state and federal employment laws and regulations.

Heather has been lead counsel in a number of reported cases, including:
