Bryan is a seasoned litigator. He is zealous, yet pragmatic and understands that a “win” for a client comes in different forms and strives to secure that “win.”

Bryan represents businesses, closely held entities, and individuals in a wide variety of cases including complex commercial matters, real estate disputes, insurance bad faith litigation, and creditors’ rights actions.

Bryan has a track record of success before judges and juries and tailors his case strategy to fit his clients’ goals and the nature of the dispute. His results include securing early dismissals on motions, a defense verdict after a jury trial and negotiating favorable settlements after narrowing the issues through aggressive discovery tactics and motions practice.

Bryan’s clients include:

- Banks and receivers
- Landlords and tenants
- Insurers
- Utilities
- Music copyright holders
- Real estate brokerages
- Residential homebuilders
- Property owners
- Software firms
- Telecommunications companies

Bryan also has a particular fluency in handling bankruptcy and state court receivership matters pertaining to failed commercial and real estate development loans.
