Dori is a skilled litigator whose practice centers on labor and employment claims, trust and estate matters and business disputes.

She routinely counsels clients in commercial litigation matters concerning breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duty, breach of trust, noncompete, fraud and negligence claims and insurance matters.

Dori also frequently defends and counsels management, companies and employers in labor and employment litigation matters pertaining to discrimination, harassment, retaliation, leave/restraint, whistle-blower claims, wage and overtime claims and ADA access suits (including online access); and cannabis issues.

Trustees, fiduciaries and beneficiaries turn to Dori in complex litigation controversies related to the management and distribution of trust, estates and guardianships. She has extensive experience representing corporate fiduciaries, financial services companies and banks.

Dori also has experience in representing manufacturers in product liability litigation and the defense of complex individual and class claims against large corporate clients in state, federal and multidistrict courts.

Dori has successfully:

- Recently won a full summary judgment for the defendant/employer in a Fair Labor Standards Act case which was affirmed at the appellate level. Thereafter, obtained costs order against Plaintiff and sanctions order against Plaintiff's attorney from Chief Judge Moore.
- Succeeded in obtaining a defense summary judgment in favor of a corporate trustee in a claim alleging civil theft of trust funds in excess of $19 million dollars. Thereafter, resolved appeal for trustee.
- Defended a trustee in a recent bench trial in federal court, in which the plaintiffs were asserting various breach of fiduciary duty and breach of trust claims directed to the former trustee which claimed significant damages. Resolved appeal in favor of trustee.
- Achieved a full defense verdict after a week-long bench trial in federal court alleging millions in damages in a securities matter involving claims of breach of fiduciary duty, negligent misrepresentation and negligence.

- Won a summary judgment dismissal of all claims in a federal court matter involving breach of trust, breach of fiduciary duty and negligence directed to a trustee seeking $18 million in damages. Resolved related appellate action and obtained attorneys' fee award for client.
- Obtained a summary judgment in a federal court matter alleging $3 million in damages involving claims of conversion, civil theft and unjust enrichment and further recovered defense attorneys' fees.
