

Lisa D. Velez

Patent Agent

West Palm Beach, FL

Tel: 561.804.4401

Fax: 561.835.9602

lvelez@foxrothschild.com

Lisa is a registered patent agent who has worked in patent law for 30 years. She has prepared and prosecuted patent applications across a wide variety of technologies including communications, software, head-mounted display devices, electrical devices, virtual reality, graphical user interfaces, mechanical devices and medical devices.

Lisa has experience managing a large patent portfolio for a Fortune 100 aerospace and defense company, including overseeing filing strategy development, portfolio management, patentability analysis and identification of licensing opportunities. She has managed patents in the areas of augmented reality, energy, simulation and training, logistics, optics, focal plane arrays, ground vehicles, air vehicle flight dynamics, semiconductors, multi-spectral imaging, X-ray technology, munitions and additive manufacturing. She has prepared and prosecuted patent applications for a variety of Fortune 500 corporations and counsels clients relating to patentability opinions.

Before Fox Rothschild

Prior to joining Fox, Lisa was a patent agent at an intellectual property law firm. She also worked at Lockheed Martin Corporation as a project engineer and patent agent. Lisa is a former patent examiner with the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Additionally, she owned and operated her own independent patent practice and worked as an electronics engineer at the United States General Services Administration.

Practice Areas

- Intellectual Property

Education

- George Washington University (M.S.E.E.)
 - Communication/Telecommunications Theory
- University of Louisiana at Lafayette (B.S.E.E.)
 - Communication/Telecommunications Theory