

Robert J. Schena

Associate

Exton, PA

Tel: 610.458.1424

Fax: 610.458.7337

rschena@foxrothschild.com

Robert counsels clients on complex environmental and commercial litigation and regulatory matters, drawing on insights gained in six years as an attorney with the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection (DEP). While at the DEP, Robert handled a wide range of matters involving:

- brownfields redevelopment
- groundwater contamination
- radiation protection
- waste management
- underground storage tank remediation
- multiparty environmental cleanups under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA) and Pennsylvania Hazardous Sites Cleanup Act (HSCA)

Before Fox Rothschild

Prior to joining Fox, Robert was assistant counsel in the Bureau of Regulatory Counsel, as well as in the Southeast and Southcentral regional offices of DEP. While there, Robert worked on a number of permitting and regulatory initiatives, including:

- development of Storage Tank and Spill Prevention Act Chapter 245 regulations
- development of proposed Land Recycling Act ("Act 2") Chapter 250 regulations
- development of Management of Fill Policy

While in law school, he worked in the Drexel University Thomas S. Kline School of Law's Entrepreneurial Law Clinic.

Honors & Awards

- Named to the "Ones to Watch" list in Pennsylvania for Commercial and Environmental Litigation by Best Lawyers (2021)

Practice Areas

- Litigation
- Environmental

Bar Admissions

- Pennsylvania

Court Admissions

- U.S. District Court, Eastern District of Pennsylvania

Education

- Drexel University Thomas R. Kline School of Law (J.D., 2013)
- University of Dallas (B.A., 2009)

Publications

April 7, 2020

PA Department of Environment Protection Issues COVID-19 Guidance