Ted focuses his practice on complex commercial litigation in both federal and state courts. He has represented clients across a range of industries in matters that include:

- antitrust
- class action defense
- securities
- trade secrets
- contracts
- construction
- franchise
- business disputes
- alternative dispute resolution

Ted is co-chair of the firm's antitrust practice group.

In more than 25 years of practice, Ted has developed significant experience in the areas of antitrust and class action defense. He has advised clients and litigated antitrust matters in a variety of sectors, including the car rental, racing, automobile, pharmaceutical manufacturing and retail industries. Ted also has successfully represented clients in numerous class actions in both federal and state courts in Pennsylvania as well as other jurisdictions. He has extensive experience, including trials in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the Commerce Court of the Philadelphia Court of Common Pleas. He has argued several appeals before the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

Recently, Ted has:

- Served as lead counsel for a defendant in a $90 million antitrust case in which he secured summary judgment in favor of the client;
- Served as lead counsel and successfully defended a summary judgment in an antitrust case in an appeal before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit;
- Served as lead counsel for a pharmaceutical company in an antitrust case that also included state law tort claims in New Jersey State Court, in which he obtained dismissal of all claims;

- Served as lead counsel and successfully argued the appeal of the dismissal of antitrust and tort claims against a pharmaceutical company before the New Jersey Superior Court, Appellate Division, which upheld the dismissal of all counts of the plaintiff's complaint;
- Served as lead counsel for a major pharmaceutical and consumer goods company in an antitrust case in the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey in which he secured dismissal of all claims;
- Served as lead counsel for a defendant in a $200 million RICO and fraud case tried before a jury in which he secured a favorable settlement for the client before the jury rendered its verdict;
- Served as lead counsel for a pharmaceutical company in an antitrust case involving a novel theory of liability that was settled favorably after two years of litigation;
- Served as co-counsel for several defendants in a major multi-district antitrust action involving alleged price fixing and related claims;
- Successfully defeated a class action on behalf of a Fortune 50 manufacturer;
- Represented one of the nation's largest automobile rental companies in defeating two class actions; and
- Represented a major national retailer in a class action involving antitrust claims relating to "bundled rebates."

Ted takes a pragmatic approach to resolving disputes on behalf of his clients. A seasoned trial lawyer, he is also well versed in alternative dispute resolution, including commercial arbitration and mediation. Ted also frequently counsels clients on antitrust compliance and has given presentations to clients' sales forces on antitrust compliance at national sales meetings.
