Ted is Co-Chair of the firm's Antitrust practice group and focuses his practice on complex commercial litigation in the federal and state courts. He frequently counsels clients on antitrust compliance, due diligence and merger integration.

Ted represents clients in courts and alternative dispute resolution forums in matters that include:

- antitrust
- business disputes
- class action defense
- construction
- contracts
- franchise
- securities
- trade secrets

In more than 25 years of practice, Ted has developed significant experience in antitrust and class action defense. He has advised clients and litigated antitrust matters in a variety of sectors, including the car rental, racing, automobile, pharmaceutical manufacturing and retail industries.

Ted also has successfully represented clients in numerous class actions in the federal and state courts in Pennsylvania and other jurisdictions. He has extensive experience, including trials in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and the Commerce Court of the Philadelphia Court of Common Pleas. He has argued several appeals before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit.

Ted takes a pragmatic approach to resolving disputes. A seasoned trial lawyer, he is well versed in alternative dispute resolution, including commercial arbitration and mediation.
